DETAILED ACTION

Responsive to communications entered 6/23/2008. Claims 46-47,49-51,54,56,57-85 are pending. Claims 57,59,63-85 are withdrawn. Claims 46,47,49-51,54,56,58,60-62 are under consideration.

Priority

Applicant's claim for the benefit of a prior-filed application under 35 U.S.C. 119(e) or under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121, or 365(c) is acknowledged. Applicant has not complied with one or more conditions for receiving the benefit of an earlier filing date under 35 U.S.C. 120 as follows:

The later-filed application must be an application for a patent for an invention which is also disclosed in the prior application (the parent or original nonprovisional application or provisional application); the disclosure of the invention in the prior application and in the later-filed application must be sufficient to comply with the requirements of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112. See Transco Prods., Inc. v. Performance Contracting, Inc., 38 F.3d 551, 32 USPQ2d 1077 (Fed. Cir. 1994) [taken from MPEP 201.01]

The instant application, filed 9/25/2003 claims priority as a DIV of application 09/082,038 filed 05/20/1998 (now PAT 6,872,535; referred to as '535). It is noted, however that sufficient support for "solid phase supports in the columns are substantially aligned" as set forth in amended claim 46 is not disclosed in the earlier application (09/082038). See also new matter considerations below.

Response to Arguments

On p 3 through the first full paragraph on p 4 of the remarks entered 6/23/2008, Applicant attempts to point to support for the genus of solid phase supports being substantially aligned in column 3 lines 11-23 and column 16 lines 55-57 as well as figures 13-17 and 29 of '535.

As a convenience to the reader said passages are reproduced below with column 3 shown first:

...the supports include the inner walls of tubes or the supports are suspended in tubes, the tubes being secured in two-dimensional (2D) frameworks, wherein the 3D array includes a plurality of such 2D frameworks of tubes stacked with the inner walls of the tubes substantially aligned, and wherein the inner walls form side walls for a plurality of wells; or 5) the supports comprise beads contained in porous enclosures, the porous enclosures having non-porous side walls and being secured in 2D frameworks, wherein the 3D array comprises a plurality of such 2D frameworks of porous enclosures stacked with the enclosure side walls substantially aligned, and wherein the enclosure side walls form side walls for a plurality of wells.

[In regard to figure 21] ...inner walls of tube supports
2120 substantially aligned, a well 2110 for delivering reagents and synthesizing such molecules is provided.

Emphasis added.

Here, as mentioned in the previous office action on pp 4-5, '535 provides support for substantially aligned tube type solid phase support species, but not the entire genus of solid phase supports, as there is no indication that other types of supports (e.g spheres) as being substantially aligned. Notably, in the embodiment utilizing solid phase support beads in porous enclosures quoted from '535 above, it is the enclosures themselves that are substantially aligned, rather than the small solid phase support beads inside.

In fact, it is noted that the sphere type of solid phase supports shown in figure 14 of '535 (representing a cross-section of figures 12 and 13), do not appear to be substantially aligned. Figures 15,17 and 29 each show more tube solid phase supports. Figure 16 illustrates the embodiment comprising solid phase support beads in aligned porous enclosures, discussed above.

In conclusion, the passages cited by applicant is not commensurate in scope with the presently claimed subject matter thus 9/25/2003 remains the date for the purposes of prior art concerning claims 46,47,49-51,54,56,58,60-62.

Maintained Claim Rejection(s) - 35 USC § 102

Claims 46,47,49-51,54,56,58,60-62 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Stein et al.

Response to Arguments

Applicant argues, see p 4 second full paragraph of remarks entered 6/23/2008, that the claims are entitled to a priority date of 5/20/1998 meaning Stein et al does not represent prior art under 35 USC 102(b).

In view of the denial of priority, detailed above, 9/25/2003 remains the date for the purposes of prior art, thus the examiner submits that Stein et al constitutes prior art under 35 USC 102(b).

Maintained Claim Rejection(s) - 35 USC § 112

Claims 46,47,49-51,54,56,58,60-62 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement concerning new matter.

Response to Arguments

Applicant argues, see p 5 first full paragraph of remarks entered 9/25/2003 that the limitation of 'solid phase supports in the columns are substantially aligned' does not constitute new matter with support being found in the disclosure on p 5 lines 5-14, p 30 lines 22-24 and figures 13-17,21,29 of the present case.

In regard to figure 21, it is once again noted that the substantially aligned solid phase supports shown therein are tubes.

Applicant admits the specification and figures of the present case are the same as that set forth the priority document (US Patent 6,872,535) In this vein, the examiner notes that the above passages and figures 13-17 and 29 appear identical to '535, and therein applicant does not offer further arguments regarding further support for 'solid phase supports in the columns are substantially aligned' beyond what was set forth with regard to priority. To the extent that Applicant is merely repeating their previous argument, the Examiner contends that those issues were adequately addressed in the above priority section, which are incorporated in their entireties herein by reference.

The examiner most respectfully submits therefore, the passages cited by applicant, by only providing support for tube solid phase supports, are not commensurate in scope with the genus of solid phase supports including beads, spheres, etc. being substantially aligned.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
